

Breaking News

CLIMATE OF AIR TRAVEL IS CHANGING

Dallas Morning News

- ✈ Continental Cuts Operations, Airplanes and Employees — Terry Maxon, June 5, 2008

Associated Press

- ✈ Small Cities Should Prepare for Fewer Flights — June 5, 2008

Associated Press

- ✈ US Air Travel Options Shrink Amid Carrier Strife — Dave Carpenter, June 4, 2008

Associated Press

- ✈ Airlines Raise Nonstop Prices Sharply for Summer — David Koenig, June 4, 2008

CNNMoney.com

- ✈ Bracing for More Air Travel Headaches — Aaron Smith, June 4, 2008
Analysts say travelers should expect higher air fares and crowded planes after the latest airline, United Airlines, said it would cull aging 737s and 747s, and reduce its payroll by 1,400 to 1,600 jobs.

FORBES

- ✈ For Aviation, A Turbulent Time — Brian Wingfield, June 3, 2008
Washington, D.C. - To say that the U.S. aviation industry has hit a patch of turbulence is a 747-sized understatement.

Seattle Post-Intelligencer

- ✈ Airlines Face Crisis that Could Rival 9/11 — James Wallace, June 3, 2008

Travel Blackboard

- ✈ Americans Not Flying as Much Due to Frustration — June 3, 2008
Long lines, flight cancellations and delays, hassles with security, lost luggage and other Airport problems appear to be deterring many Americans from using air travel, a new report has found.

Los Angeles Business Journal

- ✈ Airline Measure to Combat Fuel Costs Makes Flying A Hassle — May 30, 2008

Associated Press

- ✈ Fewer Flying Because of Hassle — May 30, 2008
An industry survey says nearly half the American air travelers questioned would fly more except for all the hassle.

USA Today

- ✈ Fliers Skipping Trips Due to Hassles of Air Travel — Dan Reed, May 29, 2008